Watterson vs Beckham.

In an editorial appearing in the Louisville Courier-Journal of July 28th, Henry Watterson makes a bitter attack on Gen. Percy Haly, hoping thereby to injure the candidacy of Mr. McChesney for the Democratic nomination for Governor. In the same editorial and for the same purpose, he refers to Governor Beckham as being Gen. Maly's "star performer." Those who have read the editorial columns of the Courier-Journal, for the past twenty years, will recall that Mr. Watterson has been somewhat of a "star performer" himself.

For several years after the nomination of Bryan for the Presidency in 1896, his paper, the Courier-Journal, was the accredited Republican organ of this State, and was taken and read by the Republicans as their organ. His first great performance after returning to the Democratic party, was his attack on J. C. W. Beckham, the Democratic Governor of Kentucky, and it is a well known fact that Watterson was Beckham's most bitter enemy all during Beckham's last term as Governor. After Beckham had been nominated by the Democrats for United States Senator, Watterson called on the Democratic members of the Kentucky Legislature to defeat Beckham, and in this fight he succeeded in defeating Beckham and electing William O. Bradley, a Republican. However, be it said to the honor of Beckham and to the eternal shame of Watterson, that with one or two exceptions, perhaps, those members of the Legislature, who deserted Beckham to vote for Bradley, were saloon keepers in the city of Louisville. Indeed did Watterson rejoice at the downfall of Beckham. But after six years Beckham arose and the Democrats of Kentucky knew him by the "prints of the nails in his hands." He defeated Stanley, the candidate backed by the liquor people, for the nomination, and by a majority of over 30,000 defeated his Republican opponent in the final election.

Mr. Watterson performed again four years ago, when he appeared in the Democratic State Convention and led the liquor people in their fight against the County Unit plank of the Democratic platform. Beckham answered Watterson's speech in the Convention and the County Unit plank was inserted and McCreary carried the State by a majority of over 30,000.

Stanley was a delegate to this convention and following the leadership of Watterson, voted "wet." McChesney was a delegate to the same convention, and following the leadership of Beckham, voted for County Unit.

Later on Mr. Watterson did some more "star performing" by calling on the Democrats of the United States to defeat the "school master" (Woodrow Wilson) for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency of the United States and sulked in his tent after Wilson was nominated for this high office. Notwithstanding this performance, Gov. Wilson was elected by one of the largest pluralities ever given a candidate for the Presidency.

He is now busy performing for Stanley and against McChesney and calling the preachers and temperance people "crazy fanatics." He is calling on the Democrats of Louisville to desert McDermott and vote for Stanley for no other reason than that the liquor business may be saved in Kentucky.

He never stops to think of saving the young men of Kentucky. He slanders Gen. Haly because Haly has dared to fight the Whisky Trust. Watterson will slander almost any one, who will not be led by him. He has charged W. J. Bryan with personal dishonesty. He has at times in the past spoken of Woodrow Wilson as a "fool." He never lost an opportunity to abuse Grover Cleveland another Democratic President. Is it possible that the Democrats of Kentucky will forsake the leadership of Beckham to follow Watterson the man, who has been stabbing the party in the back for the past twenty years. The way to get even with Watterson is to vote for McChesney and against the Whisky Trust.

NO STATE-WIDE, SAYS JAMES

Democrats Are Committed To County Unit.

Any Other Stand Will Imperil Party, He Declares.

With President As To Local Self-Government.

SENATOR MAKES STATEMENT.

(From Courier-Journal.)

Senator Ollie M. James, who came to Louisville Wednesday, gave out a statement last night in which he declares his opposition to State-wide prohibition as "undemocratic" in that it "denies local self-government to the people of the State."

"I believe the Democratic party," he says, "should declare in favor of the continuance and strict enforcement of the existing county unit law. I hope that no Democrat will by his vote directly or indirectly do anything to force upon our party a declaration in favor of State-wide prohibition, which would greatly imperil the chance of success of our party in the coming November election. And after all has been said and done, after the State had been torn by such a contest over State-wide prohibition, the progress of the State halted, business development suspended, if successful, what would be the resultant effect? Millions of dollars' worth of property would be destroyed, hundreds and thousands of laborers thrown out of employment here, and the taxes upon our people more than doubled only to enhance the value of like property just across the river in other States."

Senator James' statement in full is as follows:

"I am greatly interested in seeing the Democratic party victorious in the coming contest for the control of the affairs of our State for the next four years. For us to be defeated in this contest would not only entail upon our people the blight of mis-government, which has always followed Republican rule, but it would make doubtful the State of Kentucky in the greater contest next year, and would greatly dishearten our Democratic brethren in the entire nation. More than this, it would be heralded as a repudiation of the administration of the greatest President this Republic has known for a half century.

Thought It Settled.

"I greatly regret to see our party threatened with inter-necine warfare upon the question of State-wide prohibition. We were told, and we all believed, this question was settled for good when we declared in our Democratic platform of 1911 for the county unit, and thereafter enacted it into law, which gave to each self-governing community, namely, the county—the unit recognized by the constitution—the right to settle this question for itself. Under this law 106 counties have prohibited the license of the sale of liquors, and the other four counties of the State may do likewise, if it is the will of the people of those self-governing communities. I believe this law has proved satisfactory to the people of the State of Kentucky. I am opposed to State-wide prohibition because it is undemocratic, and denies local self-government to the people of the State. It substitutes the will of one people in one county over another people in another county, under wholly different environments.

Platform of 1911.

"When we adopted our Democratic State platform of 1911, we said we did it to enable the people of each county to decide for 'themselves' this question. Now it is proposed to withdraw this right of local self-government from them, and provide that others shall decide for them. We declare in this same platform that 'temperance is essentially a moral, nonpolitical and social question, and shall not be made a partisan issue between political parties.' Shall we now repudiate this declaration, and not only make it an issue between political parties, but make it the paramount one?

Stands With President Wilson.

"I take my stand squarely with President Wilson, the leader of the Democracy of this nation, in favor of local option as the true Democratic doctrine upon the question of the regulation of the liquor traffic. The President stated that he was a thorough ough believer in local self-government and believed that every self-governing community, which constitutes a social unit, should have the right to settle this question. This, in my judgment, is the true Democratic doctrine for local self-government, which in its very essence is home rule, has long been the watchword of Democracy. It is the granite foundation upon which the Democratic party has built, not for a day, not for political emergency, but as a fundamental truth, and for all time. Upon the platform of 1911, embodying this doctrine, we went to the greatest victory within twenty years. Whatever else may be said about the Democratic party, no one has ever charged that it was a shuttlecock, that it blew hot in one platform and cold in another one. Its principles have been lasting, and its faith has been constant.

For the County Unit.

"I believe the Democratic party should declare in favor of the continuance and strict enforcement of the existing county unit law. I hope that no Democrat will by his vote directly or indirectly do anything to force upon our party a declaration in favor of State-wide prohibition, which would greatly imperil the chance of success of our party in the coming November election. And after all has been said and done, after the State had been torn by such a contest over State-wide prohibition, the progress of the State halted, business development suspended, if successful, what would be the resultant effect? Millions of dollars' worth of property would be destroyed, hundreds and thousands of laborers thrown out of employment here, and the taxes upon our people more than doubled only to enhance the value of like property just across the river in other States."

KENTUCKY, OR KENTUCKY!

[Wednesday's Courier Journal.]

In all its chequered, but not inglorious, history, Kentucky never faced a situation quite so menacing to its public life, its character and reputation, as that which looms before it in the coming primary elections.

One of its two leading parties, substantially reunited after the drubbing it had in 1912, lies low and keeps dark, whilst the other split into factions, flounders aimlessly about the political bull-ring as a chicken with its head off around the kitchen yard.

Everybody is playing football with the liquor question. Nobody seems to see through the confusion of the scramble for office and the clouds of pretension and falsehood arising thence, the impending danger both to property and morals. Just such conditions preceded economic and political chaos in Tennessee and fiscal collapse in West Virginia. But, where in those states a few hundred thousand dollars were at stake, in Kentucky millions are at stake.

Such a situation lends itself to corruption. It is made to the hand of those who conspire and work in the dark. Publicity alone is death to invisible government. Surely the Democrats of Kentucky do not know what is going on beneath the surface. If they did they would rise as one man to save the State, their party and themselves.

The Third House at Frankfort is a secret society. But enough is known of its organization and membership to establish the fact that its head center is a gentleman of the name of Percy Haly. He is a perfect type of the machine politician—ineffatigable and unscrupulous—suave and silent. What Boss Platt was in New York and Boss Quay in Pennsylvania, Percy Haly seeks to make himself in Kentucky. In talent for contraband traffic, the dicker and barter for place, patronage and pelf, he is the equal of either Platt or Quay. He is a force, and Kentucky will have to reckon with him.

This keen, alert man, twanging the sordid string, has contrived by a process of scheming that approaches genius to run his candidates on a single issue whilst dividing the opposition to them into three parts. In any event, whatever happens, he expects to be the master of the next Kentucky Legislature.

Not in his palmy days did old Simon Cameron display better knowledge of the venal and vulnerable in human nature, and if the Democrats of Kentucky are willing to become the cat's paws of Percy Haly as the Republicans of Pennsylvania were the cat's paws of Simon Cameron, the opportunity is before them. But they shall not be able truthfully to say after the deed is done that the Courier-Journal did not warn them. Whatever they decide to do they must do at once. If the Percy Haly combine gets in its work through the primaries, it is rats to your holes and "My old Kentucky Home Good Night."

Meanwhile, State-wide prohibition, with Percy Haly's star performer Beckham astride his back, stands pawing and snorting at the door. That means enormous loss to the State, financial ruin to the city of Louisville. It means what a Louisiana enactment forbidding the sale of cotton would mean to New Orleans, or a Virginia statute forbidding the sale of tobacco to Richmond. It means, of course, boundless corruption at Frankfort, the Third House in complete control. Yet there appears no care, or comprehension to speak of out in the State and little realization here in Louisville of the imminent and deadly peril. Have the Democrats of Kentucky lost the capacity to discriminate? Is it their mind-sight or their moral nature that is weak? Or has Percy Haly bewitched them?

Unless they get a move on themselves they are lost and when the inevitable arrives they need not come to the Courier-Journal and say "You did it."

TOM RHEA HAS PROVEN FRIEND TO TAXPAYERS OF KENTUCKY

Played Important Part In Forcing Large Corporations to Pay Their Just Proportion of Taxes and is Best Qualified In Every Way for Auditorship

It is natural and proper that the Democrats of Kentucky should take a deep interest in the selection of their candidate for Governor on August 7, but they should not allow that race to overshadow all others and cause them to neglect or overlook other important races. Especially should they give their attention to the Auditor's race, for that position ranks in importance next to that of Governor.

The Auditor is the head of the fiscal affairs of the state and the head of the important Board of Franchise Assessments which fixes the franchise valuations upon which all corporations doing business in the state must pay taxes. The work of that board is of far-reaching importance to the people, and, above all others, the Auditor, who presides as chairman of the board, should be a man well equipped and trained for its difficult duties, and one who is incorruptible and fearless, ready to compel the corporations to pay their just part of the revenues of the state, without being unjust to any corporation or persons.

Such a man is Thos. S. Rhea, who is asking the nomination from the Democratic party, and there is not a man in Kentucky better qualified for the position or more deserving of the support of the Democrats. As State Treasurer for nearly four years in the present administration, he has been a member of that board and a leading spirit in its splendid work. With his intelligent and active assistance, the franchise assessments upon corporations have been so increased that the state is now receiving several hundred thousand dollars more in revenue every year than ever before. The board has increased the franchise valuation upon R. G. Phillips, Frankfort, Ky. $132,000,000. Four of the largest railroad companies, whose assessments were raised, have carried it into the courts; and, if the courts uphold the action of the board, the increased revenue, together with the large increase from other corporations, which have not contested the raises, will be a great help to the taxpayers, and in a reasonable time aid materially in paying off the indebtedness of the state.

In the four years of this administration, the increase of revenues from the increased assessments of those corporations, which have not made contests, will alone amount to a sum to the state far in excess of a million dollars; and the increase of revenues from the same sources to the counties, cities, towns and school districts will amount

The candidates are beginning to hustle around in this "part of the world. Somebody is going to be defeated.

A new roof is being put on our court-house. Two new buildings are going up in our town, in addition to the Graded School building. Jamestown is coming, but it has not got here yet. It's coming. Look out for it when we get the Dixie Highway!

We are told that the Dixie is as good for Russell as corn is for a pig. We all believe it to be true. We don't know any better than to believe anything we are told. We can almost hear the rumbling of the automobiles going north and south.

We can see our lands making double per acre, for we are told it will do it, and we all believe it to be true. Our lands will then be listed higher and it will produce better and oh! what good times we will have when we get the Dixie Highway. Taxes will not be any higher when we get the Dixie.

The taxable property of Russell county is one million nine hundred seventy-two thousand dollars and 20 cents on the hundred is $3,944. The interest on forty thousand dollars is only $2,000 dollars a year and civil engineer only cost six hundred dollars a year and 5 per cent, Sheriff's fee, would only be $2,797.20 $3944 less 2792.20 leave $1,146.80 to pay on our road debt and let the repair go to thunder. Our land is going to produce more corn and wheat per acre as soon as we get the Dixie Highway. So you see we won't want for anything when we get the Dixie.

Democratic Editors See Victory for Claude B. Terrell In Race for Nomination for State Treasurer In August Primary Election.

If there is one contest in the approaching Democratic State primary election about which the Democratic newspapers of Kentucky seem to be agreed it is that the Hon. Claude B. Terrell, of Trimble County, should and will be nominated for the office of State Treasurer. Mr. Terrell has made a runaway race of it from the day he entered the contest. His especial fitness for the office he is seeking has appealed to the Democratic editors of every section of Kentucky, and they have done much to mold the sentiment of their communities in his favor by informing the people as to the character of the man and his qualifications for public service. Herewith are quoted brief paragraphs taken from editorials of newspapers published in every section of Kentucky. It would require not less than two pages of a newspaper to publish in full these unsolicited words of commendation of Mr. Terrell and his candidacy:

The Calloway Times: He has served three terms in the Legislature, two as Speaker, and is a clean, fair-minded, sober and discreet man. He will poll a splendid vote in this county next month.

The Ballard County Advance: Mr. Terrell is a man well equipped for this important office and will make a splendid official. He is a man you like better the more you see him.

Paducah News-Democrat: He is a substantial business man, and is held in the highest esteem by all who know him, and has many friends in this section of Kentucky who will give him their support.

Fulton Daily Leader: He is a staunch Democrat, is familiar with the public affairs of the State by virtue of his commanding position the past few years in the legislature and is well fitted in every way to make the people of Kentucky a faithful State Treasurer and guardian of the funds of the commonwealth.

Arlington Courier: A better man cannot be found for this place. He is self-made, public spirited, and a friend to the working man.

Mayfield Messenger: He is a great friend to education and a constant fighter for good roads. With him as State Treasurer the people can be assured that the affairs of that office will be conducted honestly and according to law.

Bowling Green Times-Journal: Mr. Terrell will add strength to the ticket selected next month, and it is gratifying to know that his nomination is a certainty.

Bowling Green News: The press of the state is loud in its praise of him as a Democrat; a high-class gentleman and an honorable incorruptible man of fine business and executive ability and one who never has and never will betray a trust either in private or public life.

Todd County Progress: Mr. Terrell enjoys a wide acquaintance in the state, made a splendid Speaker of the House, and is a man of winning personality.

Smith's Grove Times: The county papers over the state are giving Terrell their support, and it is likely that he will carry the state by a larger majority than most candidates.

Cloverport News: He is a man who has made good in all his public trusts. He is a man well equipped for the office he is asking.

Springfield Sun: The manner in which he conducted the affairs of his great trust as Speaker won for him many strong friends over the state, who are now endeavoring to endorse his valuable service.

New Haven Echo: He is of the younger set of business men and possesses the push that has always been lacking in the state, and has been so much needed.

Shepherdsville News: He helped to enact more constructive laws than any other Speaker who has presided over the House in fifty years. He is by far the ablest and strongest man seeking the Treasurership.

Breckenridge News: The Big Sandy News pays a very fine compliment to Claude B. Terrell. The beauty about it is that 'tis true.

rell is running on a record that seems invincible. His friends say the nomination is certain, and the honor will be most fitly and properly bestowed.

Louisville Journal of Labor: Citizens of Kentucky should certainly appreciate his efforts and evidence their appreciation by nominating this splendid worker for the public good. He is meeting with great success daily and his candidacy grows in public favor constantly.

Boone County Recorder: His prospect for receiving the nomination is very good. He is a Sixth District boy, and we are all for him.

Falmouth Pendletonian: His greatest strength is where he is best known, which is the strongest evidence of a man's worth, and for this high office he has no superiors.

Carrollton Democrat: All who know him seem to be for him. Trimble County is fated to have a representative among our state officials the coming four years.

Grant County News: There is no blot on his escutcheon as a lawmaker and a faithful servant of the people, and he now comes with clean hands seeking a state office. We have no doubt he will reflect credit.

Uniontown Telegram: Besides his ability which qualifies him to efficiently conduct the duties of Treasurer, he is a native Union countian, which makes a strong appeal to us.

Sebree Banner: The ticket needs strength to win in November, and Claude B. Terrell will add much along that line. Webster County voters can well afford to support him.

Pembroke Journal: Terrell looks like a winner. He has the support of the leading newspapers of the state. In all official positions he has served his constituents faithfully.

Big Sandy News: In Eastern Kentucky Mr. Terrell is very strong. No citizen who wants clean men in important offices will make any mistake in voting for him.

Hazel Green Herald: No Democrat can possibly make a mistake in voting for Terrell, for he has been tried in many positions of honor and trust and never yet has he been found wanting.

Robertson Advance: He does not permit politics to make of him a selfish or biased man. He is able to take care of the Treasurer's office, and he will carry this county.

Ewing Enquirer: He is widely known as a man of ability, as a promoter of the good roads movement and all educational matters. He is worthy of the support of any man who wants to place the right man in the right place.

Russell Times: Democrats want men nominated that will bring strength to the ticket in the general election. They will make no mistake in nominating Terrell for Treasurer.

Whitesburg Mountain Eagle: As State Treasurer he will be at home, and besides doing much good for his constituents he will be in part repaid for the excellent work he has already done for Kentucky.

Pike County News: A most excellent gentleman and fully qualified for the office he seeks.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

VIII.—C. E. Schaff

On Railway Investments

President Wilson, recently referring to our railroad problems, said in part: "They are indispensable to our whole economic life and railway securities are at the very heart of most investments, large and small, public and private, by individuals and by institutions. * * * There is no other interest so central to the business welfare of the country, as this. No doubt, in the light of the new day, with its new understandings, the problem of the railroads will also be met and dealt with in a spirit of candor and justice."

When the first citizen of the land stresses the importance of understanding and dealing justly with the railroads, certainly the American plowman can venture upon a careful study of the problem. C. E. Schaff, president of the M. K. & T. railway company, when asked to outline the relation of the public to railroads investments, said in part:

"It may be said that the railroad world is encumbered with a lot of phantoms which exist only in the popular fancy. For instance, because there have been a few so-called 'railroad magnates' whose names have figured prominently in finance, many people have come to believe that the railroads of the country are largely owned by a few rich men. As a matter of fact nothing could be farther from the truth. Out of the colossal sum of twenty billion dollars of American railroad securities, less than five per cent is now, or ever has been, in the hands of these men who have figured prominently in the newspaper headlines—while the other 95 per cent is in the hands of over two million investors, large and small, who in many instances have put the modest savings of a lifetime into these securities in order that they might lay away a competency for old age. When, therefore, the value of these securities is depressed or perchance destroyed, the hardship is a hundred-fold greater upon thousands of every-day citizens, than upon the handful of millionaires, good or bad, who have figured prominently in railroad circles.

Hundreds of millions of dollars of the assets of our great life and fire insurance companies, savings banks, trust companies, educational and fiduciary institutions are invested in railroad bonds—and the moment, therefore, that the soundness of these bonds is called into question the financial solidity of these myriad institutions—directly affecting the welfare of millions of policy-holders and bank depositors—is gravely menaced. During the last several years, many millions of dollars representing depreciated values, have been charged off the books of concerns like those enumerated above. American railroads have become a vital part of the very wool and fabric of the nation. Their continued efficiency is absolutely essential to the smallest community in the land.

In blindly striking at the railroads our blows fall not merely upon thousands who have committed no wrong, but, in the last analysis, upon ourselves. We should remember how interdependent we have come to be in this mighty republic of ours—that each is in truth become more and more his brother's keeper, and that we need to act and think circumspectly, lest in our mistaken zeal we destroy those who, like ourselves, need whatever of this world's goods the toil and sweat of years has bequeathed to them."

This community is proud of the record of these young men.

The temperance forces are well organized in this county. Twelve ministers of the gospel made lectures Friday night to appreciative audiences. Quite a number of other speakers are in the field, and enthusiasm seems to be running high. No politics is mentioned by any of the speakers, but they present the question in a way that the moral effects will necessarily be for the betterment of every one.

Prof. J. H. Sanders, Shepherdsville, is visiting relatives and friends in this county. He is principal of the Graded School and receives a salary of $125 a month.

Little Miss Frances Penn Miller, of Louisville, is with her grandfather, James D. Miller, this place.

Revs. Grundy, Piper Shanks and Richardson are conducting a series of meetings at Liberty. They are having large congregations, but to date, no additions to the church. They will close the meeting Sunday, and commence one at Shiloh.

There were twenty-five different automobiles on the Columbia and Campbellsville pike last Sunday.

Mr. Fulton Campbell, Meadow Creek, is one of the most enterprising farmers we have in our county. He has nine acres of sweet clover, some of it twelve feet in length. He also reports Soudan grass eight feet in height. He has quite a number of catalpa trees which have a good growth. No community knows the worth of such a farmer.

Mr. Sam Johnson, who was operated upon for appendicitis, some time ago, is regaining his strength slowly. He had a narrow escape from death, and every one is surprised at his recovery.

We have the most flattering outlook for corn that the county ever had. All fields are good with the exception of lowlands. The fields that were not fertilized are equally as good as those that were.

The bi-county institute of Green and Taylor has been in session at the Baptist Academy, this week. Prof. T. J. Coats is instructor. He is a thorough going school worker, and is doing a great deal to increase educational interest throughout the State. The attendance of teachers is good. The restrictions placed upon the teachers by the superintendents compel them to attend.

The farmers are nearly through making hay, and there is an abundant crop. Wheat and oats have been threshed in a very bad condition. Wheat is bringing a dollar per bushel, but a very small amount is marketable on account of being wet and inferior grade.

The tobacco prospects are very good, but it has not been very well cultivated.

Prof. H. D. Fetzer, Chattanooga, Tenn., arrived this week to solicit pupils for the B. C. I., of which he will be principal. He was born in Alsace-Lorraine, Germany.

The colored Presbyterians are going to rebuild their church at Burdick. Their last house of worship was burned down several years ago.

"Then some of the first citizens who had been interested in getting up his reception, when the fact that he was penniless and had passed into old age became notorious, offered to get up a donation affair for him. I have always believed they did it to humiliate him. Sandy declined their offer, saying that he had many friends who would not see him suffer. And he had and has now. When he wants a meal there are a thousand people ready to give it to him. He has a room in a house he built for a poor family, and those he befriended are constantly clamoring for him to eat with them.

POISONOUS SNAKES.

They Are Absolutely Proof Against Their Own or Other Venom.

Snake venom is a transparent fluid, yellowish in color and of about the consistency of human saliva. When dried it takes the form of flaky yellow crystals. In this shape or dissolved in alcohol or glycerin it will remain unaltered and will preserve its poisonous properties for an indefinite period. No satisfactory chemical analysis has ever been made of it, but it seems to be a very complex albuminous compound. A curious discovery recently made is that the blood of venomous serpents is itself poisonous, containing as it does the principles that are concentrated in the secretion of the venom glands.

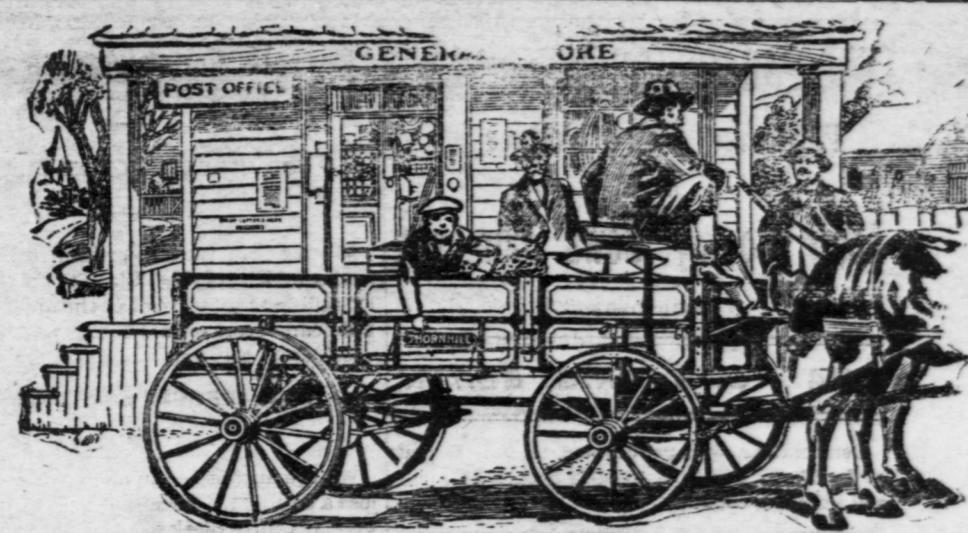

Venomous snakes are themselves absolutely venom proof. Rattlesnakes dosed by injection with large quantities of their own or other venom have shown not the slightest ill effects. Another remarkable fact is that serpent venom is harmless to human beings or other animals if taken internally. The late Dr. S. Weir Mitchell found that one-fourth of a drop of rattlesnake poison would kill a pigeon if given by hypodermic injection, but a pigeon fed with six drops a day for three successive days suffered not at all in consequence.

Professor Mangili, a pioneer investigator in this line, had an assistant who boldly swallowed all the venom that could be extracted from four large vipers. No bad effects followed. The same negative result was noted by Professor Baird, at that time secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, who ate the venom glands of a rattlesnake. As recently ascertained, serpent venom in such circumstances is harmless, because it cannot pass through the mucous membrane that lines the stomach, and it undergoes changes during digestion that allow it to enter the blood as an innocuous substance.—Every Week.

Trap For Quotation Experts.

If any one wants a catch question to spring on a gathering of self confessed literary sharps let him ask whence comes the quotation, "One touch of nature makes the whole world kin." This is one of the six best sellers in the world of quotations, yet not one person in a hundred knows where it comes from. It is comparatively easy to guess the author, but almost impossible to find a person who can name the work.

One could build any number of parlor games around "One touch of nature makes the whole world kin." Try it.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

This is the "Thornhill" Wagon—the Wagon that Must Make Good

The best known materials—the labor of master workmen—the aid of the most ingenious modern machinery have been employed to make the Thornhill wagon.

The wheels are made with excessive care. For the spokes the manufacturers use the finest hickory—machine driven to insure the right dish. The hubs are of oak, thoroughly seasoned and banded with double refined sable iron.

The bolsters are of the best white oak. They have an iron plate at top and bottom, riveted through and through—multiplying their strength.

The "Thornhill" has a malleable front hound plate that is braced to the bounds at all points. This is an exclusive "Thornhill" feature. It prevents the gears from ever getting out of line and causing hard pulling.

"Thornhill" wagons are equipped with long sleeve malleable—non-breakable skeins that insure light running, and outlast any other skein. Each skein is fitted to its axle with a Defiance machine—infallibly accurate. This machine insures the right pitch and tuck, makes light draft a certainty.

The axles are of toughest Hickory—the steel axles of the best refined steel.

The sides of "Thornhill" beds are made of poplar. It costs the makers more—but it holds paint better and is better service.

Come in and see this wagon—solid under a binding guarantee.

We are authorized to announce Lee A. Lawless a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Court Clerk of the County of Russell, subject to the action of the Republican voters of said county, as expressed at the August primary.This is the last issue of The News before the primary and there is much speculation as to the result in the race for Governor.
The information before us leads to the conclusion that the two leading candidates for the Democratic nomination are A. A.
O. Stanley and H. V. McChesney, the latter candidate favoring State wide prohibition. Those who are in touch with Mr. Stanley's progress feel sure that he is a winner, and Mr. McChesney's followers are as equally sanguine. Mr. McDermott is not out of the race, his organ and managers in the city of Louisville claiming that he will come under the string first. We have our choice between men and if we lose in the primary we will rejoice with those who are gleeful over the success of their candidate. We go up against the Republican candidate in November, and every Democrat should be ready to enter heartily into the final contest.G. B. Likens Only Candidate From Fourth Congressional District.

At the last presidential election the Fourth Congressional District cast 21,932 votes for Woodrow Wilson, one-tenth of the entire Democratic vote in Kentucky, and it has never failed to give loyal support to all Democratic nominees. In the Primary election to be held on August 7th the Fourth District has but one candidate seeking the nomination for a State office, and that is G. B. Likens of Ohio county, who aspires to the office of Secretary of State. Mr. Likens will have the united support of the Fourth District democracy. His qualifications, his personal integrity, his party loyalty are not excelled by any other candidate running in the August Primary.A stronger candidate or more proficient officer could not be selected. The Fourth District has no Democrat now holding an elective State office at Frankfort, and unless Mr. Likens is nominated it will not be represented on the State ticket. Vote for him! not alone because he is the only candidate from the Fourth District, but because he is the best man to nominate.

Unanswerable Argument.

On last County Court Day several men were gathered in Flow-eating lunch and incidentally discussing politics. One man presented his side of the question by calling attention to his wrecked physical condition, the cause of which, according to his own

He stated that he would vote for McChesney. Although it is too save other men from a like fate.

A vote for McChesney is to save

Are you in favor of issuing $40,000.00 in bonds for the purpose of building roads and bridges?

All legal voters of the county are entitled to vote at this election, which will be held by the same officers that hold the regular election.

AWAKE, DEMOCRATS.

Harry Sommers of the "Elizabethtown News" declares the Republican party is united, and the Democratic party is divided by a foreign issue—"Two Thirds of the Democrats of Kentucky are opposed to State-wide Prohibition," says Mr. Sommers—McChesney, even if nominated would not get a third of the Democratic vote—This would be suicide by the Democratic party—Much depends on what the Democrats do in August—The strongest candidate on the Democratic platform should be selected to beat McChesney and meet Morrow on the stump—"Unite Democrats!" Says Mr. Sommers, "put your Democracy above your views on 'Prohibition'!"—Mr. Sommers believes in the Democratic platform which stands for County Unit.

A CARD

Glasgow, Ky., July 30, 1915.

Democrats of Adair County:

In making the race for State Senator I had hoped to have for an opponent a man who was truthful, honest and fair, and who would eliminate from the campaign all personalities. To my exceeding regret Mr. Hatcher, who is contesting the nomination with myself, has not fulfilled any one of my anticipations. It has generally been the custom for candidates for Democratic nominations, when they start out to canvass, to submit a list of speaking engagements to their opponents, and for them to arrange joint debates when each could put forward their individual claims. This Mr. Hatcher failed to do, but I have learned that he made speeches in Adair county without inviting me to be present or without notifying me of his intentions. The fact that he did this would not matter if it had not come to my knowledge that in these speeches he made a number of charges and accusations that were false and untrue and he knew them to be so at the time.

He charged that I am a Bank and Railroad candidate. This is untrue—I have never, in all my life, owned one dollar interest in a bank. I was employed as a clerk in one from 1905 to April 1908, at which time I resigned my position to volunteer as a soldier in the Spanish-American war. Returning home from Cuba I secured a job as a trucker in the Glasgow railroad freight depot, and received for my labor $1.00 per day, and in time worked myself up to the position of agent, which I surrendered on account of my health. He says that I am a large stockholder in the Glasgow Railroad. Now it is a well-known fact that my father was a stockholder in this road, but at his death his entire holdings were left, by will, which is of record in the Barren County Clerk's office, to Mr. C. U. McElroy, my senior brother-in-law, in trust to be held and controlled by him absolutely until ten years should expire, at which time it is to be sold and divided equally among the living heirs, and they are ten in number. He further asserts that I have a brother engaged in the liquor business, which he knows is absolutely false.

In a controversy in the court house at Columbia I charged him, and proved it, that he had refused to leave the selection of our party's candidate to the county in which we both were brought up and now reside, and where we are best known. I even offered to leave the selection to the Democratic voters of precinct No. 4 of the city of Glasgow, in which we both live. This he also declined, knowing that I would get more than 3 to 1 votes there. I understand he told the Democratic voters of Adair county, that I had voted other than the straight Democratic ticket and that I was not a good Democrat. There is no living man can truthfully make such assertions, and Mr. Hatcher knew them to be false when he made them. Since, and before my majority I have done all that was asked of me and given liberally and freely both of my time and means to further the best interests of my party. My opponent has selected the farthest sections of this district to make these charges which he would not dare make to a Barren county audience, for they are ridiculously false. I ask of the Adair county Democracy their fair and careful investigation of our respectful claims; look into the merits of each candidate; find out all you can about them. You owe this to yourself, your party and the candidates themselves. When you have done this I will be satisfied with the result of your selection, and I hereby promise you, that if in me you put your trust and confide your interests, that they shall be safeguarded every moment that I am your public servant.

Yours for our Democratic principles,

R. B. Trigg.

Peace and War.

Editor News:-

These are the antipodes, and to me they seem as far apart as heaven and hell. Jesus, the Prince of Peace, going about doing good and seeking to save men's lives, the author of one. Satan, the Prince of war, going about seeking to destroy men's lives, the author of the other. These, the two leaders in the great conflict between right and wrong, between love and hate. Their objects and purposes are clearly set forth in the old book, we all, as Christians, profess to believe, and to-day we are called upon, as perhaps we have not been before, to say which side we are on. There is no escaping the issue, no dodging the question.

Are we for the Prince of Peace, first, last, all the time, or are we for the Prince of darkness and war some of the time?

Not very long ago we heard an intelligent, educated minister of the gospel of peace favoring war, in defense of our rights and national honor. This may be so called patriotism, but is it Christian? Is it the kind of patriotism Jesus taught and practiced? He laid down his life for his country and for the whole world, not fighting, but praying, "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do." This is the kind he is looking for in his followers, and the kind we must have if we walk in his footsteps and go with him all the way.

Whence comes this wisdom that tells us it is a noble Christian act to die fighting for our rights and our nation's honor? Is this the wisdom from above, that is pure, peaceable, gentle, easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits? Or is it the wisdom from beneath, which James says, is earthly, sensual, devilish? As professed followers of him who came, not to destroy, but to save men's lives, is it not time for us to awake and see which way we are drifting? Whether toward peace and heaven, or toward war, which we are fast coming to see is hell. Isn't it time for us to examine ourselves to see whether we are in the faith, and what manner of spirit we are of? Whether we are walking after the Spirit or after the world, the flesh and the devil? Let us try the spirits whether they be of God, and to every spirit that says war, let us say, get behind me Satan, thou art an offense unto me, for it is written; "My kingdom is not of this, if it were then would my servants fight." Now since war is hell, and since Satan is the author of both and is using both to destroy men's lives, is it not very inconsistent, to say the least of it, to send our young men off to his military schools to learn the art of killing their enemies? Compare these schools with the school of Christ. One says learn to destroy your enemies. The other says love your enemies, do good to those who despitefully use you.

The above and many other such questions are being asked by inquisitive people, and as Christians, we believe we should always be ready to give a reason, not only for the hope that is in us, but also for any course of action we may be pursuing.

Another question that is being asked is, how can a minister of the gospel go into the enemy's camp, as a chaplain, and preach the truth, as Christ and his apostles preached it, without stirring the war devil and creating a greater commotion than Paul did when he preached against the goddess of the Ephesians? It is hard to understand how one can throw fire into powder without an explosion, unless there is something wrong with the fire or the powder, and as the devil always keeps his powder dry, we are forced to the conclusion that the fire that comes in contact with his works and does not explode them, is some kind of "strange fire," and not the kind Jesus came to cast upon the earth; the kind that is to destroy the devil and his works—Heb. 2:14 John 3:8 and prove each man's work of what sort it is. First Cor. 3:13

"For many years this question has been uppermost in the minds of thoughtful men, is the Christian religion practicable, or is it only a dazzling dream? Are the principles of Christ workable, or are they only the brilliant suggestions of a beautiful mind?

Are his commandments binding on diplomats and rulers, or are they only poetic sentences to be memorized by Sunday-School boys and girls? Is the Golden Rule for empires as well as for individuals? Are nations to forgive, or men only? Has the great commandment binging force upon statesman, or are they privileged to act under a different law? Although there are thirty-three millions of confessed Christians in our country, it is doubtful if we should have squandered more money on battleships than we have, if we had all been infidels or Mohammedans or Apache Indians. The church is now going to lead in a war against war. Men are everywhere saying: 'This must be the last war.' The church could have ended war long ago. She did not do it. Let us hope that she will now put her hand to the plow, and never again look back.

This is the opportunity which God gives the church to prove that she possesses a mission from heaven. There have been three historic scourges: Famine, Pestilence and War. The first two have been slain by science. The last one science cannot kill. War can be abolished only by love. Science has no control of the heart. To create and nourish the spirit of love is the church's distinctive mission. Other demons have been cast out by lower means, but war the chief of the world's devils, can be exercised only by love. In the name of Christ, the church is going to set the world free. To all the above our hearts say amen.

Despondency Due to Indigestion.

"About three months ago when I was suffering from Indigestion which caused headache and dizzy spells and made me feel tired and despondent, I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Mrs. Geo. Hon, Macedon, N. Y. "This medicine proved to be the very thing I needed, as one day's treatment relieved me greatly. I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they rid me of this trouble." Obtainable at Pauli Drug Co.

Remarkable Baseball Game.

In a semiprofessional game recently played at Seattle, Wash., between Fort Lawson and Covey the teams battled eleven innings before Fort Lawson scored on a base on balls, a wild throw to second and another to third. Neither team made a hit in the entire game off Pitchers Watterson of Fort Lawson and Ruth of Covey. The only man who reached first base on Pitcher Ruth was the man who tallied on his walk and the two successive wild throws, while Watterson permitted but three men to reach first base, all of them walking.

Bowels are Basis of Child Health

The careful mother, who watches closely the physical peculiarities of her children, will soon discover that the most important thing in connection with child's constant good health is to keep bowels regularly open. Sluggish bowels will be followed by loss of appetite, restlessness during sleep, irritability and a dozen and one similar evidences of physical disorder.

At the first sign of such disorder give the child a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi at night on retiring and repeat the dose the following night if necessary—more than that will scarcely be needed. You will find that the child will recover its accustomed good spirits at once and will eat and sleep normally. This remedy is a vast improvement over salts, cathartics, laxative waters and similar things, which are altogether too powerful for a child. The homes of Mrs. Carrie McDonald, 1036 Trigg Ave., Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Sallie E. Griffith, Veedale, Ky., are always supplied with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi, and with them, as with thousands of others, there is no substitute for this grand laxative. It is really more than a laxative, for it contains superior tonic properties which help to tone and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels so that after a brief use of all laxatives can be dispensed with and nature will do its own work.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy can buy it in the regular way of a druggist at fifteen cents and a dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

This has a world of meaning to every woman who suffers as Mrs. J. S. Blair, of Enterprise, Okla., suffered and there are many thousands such.

Mrs. Blair tells the story of her suffering and cure much better than we can tell it. We quote her own words:

"I had been nodding, cramping and taking medicine from a good doctor as the country affords, but he did me no good. I got tired of doctor's medicine and sent to the drug store for a woman's medicine and the druggist sent me STELLA-VITAE.

"One bottle stopped everything and I felt like a different woman. I have used six bottles already and will continue to use and praise STELLA-VITAE whenever I need a woman's medicine."

What STELLA-VITAE did for Mrs. Blair it will do for you. We guarantee the first bottle to benefit you. Your money back if it don't. You cannot afford to not try it—when you have all to gain and not a penny to lose.

Go to your dealer today and begin trying STELLA-VITAE, trying to become well. We lose the price if you are not benefited. In many years of guaranteeing STELLA-VITAE less than one bottle out of every thousand has failed to benefit.

The candidates for county offices are putting in all their time shaking the bushes. The fight is among the Republicans, and each aspirant thinks he is a sure winner. When the primary is over the defeated candidates will conclude that there are a great many political liars in the county. A great deal of the wheat of Russell county has been threshed. The crop is light, but the grain is good.

WAR SITUATION.

The severe fighting on the Italo-Austrian frontier which has been going on for approximately ten days shows no signs of a let-up, nor is there any clear indication of a definite outcome. The Italian official reports continue to claim a succession of either advances or the holding of the Austrians in check. The Austrians are contesting every foot of the Italian advance with stubborn determination and have lost 3,200 prisoners to the Italians, according to an official statement given out in Rome.

In addition to the capture of Warsaw, the direct objective of the German Polish campaign of the past two weeks, the troops of the German Empire evidently are making a special endeavor just now to cut communication between Warsaw and Petrograd, with the purpose of preventing the successful retreat, if Warsaw falls, of the Russian army now defending that city. To this end are directed their operations north of Kovno, according to dispatches from Petrograd, as well as their advance upon Brest-Litovsk by way of Chelm and the right bank of the River Bug. The issues still are undecided, with the Russians claiming temporary advantages.

Observers in Petrograd are watching with particular interest three points around Warsaw where the German maneuvers are regarded as of special importance. These are the operations on the left bank of the Narew to the north of the Polish capital, against the town of Chelm, to the southeast, where possession of the railroad is the point at issue, and along the Bug.

The Germans, according to Russian official reports, have brought up enormous reserves, but nevertheless the Russian authorities say the troops of Emperor Nicholas have taken the offensive successfully at several points.

The German attacks along the River Narew have been checked and along the River Bug the Russian soldiers are holding firmly. On the other hand, German troops under Field Marshal von Mackensen have made progress toward the Lublin-Chelm railroad.

In the southern area of Russian Poland, between the Vistula and the Vieprz, the operations would appear to have reached a temporary standstill. As an offset to this inactivity the Germans are widening the sphere of their hostilities toward the east.

Capt. Eugene Delk, of the American steamer Leelanaw, sunk by a German submarine off Scotland July 25, reports from Aberdeen that he and his crew were treated with the utmost courtesy by their German captors. They traveled sixty miles on the deck of the submarine and were then sent into Kirkwall in their lifeboats.

Russia, according to a dispatch from Petrograd, is making preparations to strengthen her armies in the field. She is about to order a general mobilization throughout Siberia. She has, furthermore, called to the colors the men born in 1896, in other words, the youths of nineteen years of age.

German submarine activity in the North Sea has not diminished. The reports so far to-day mention the destruction of two British trawlers, one Swedish steamer, and three Danish schooners. In all cases the members of the crews were saved.

The French official report to-day recites the repulse of German attacks to the North of Souchez and in the Argonne region. Otherwise last night passed quietly. In the Dardanelles French troops have made a slight advance on their right wing, and French aviators have bombarded a Turkish aviation camp.

A dispatch from London says the Germans have lost 500,000 men up to now in an effort to take Warsaw.

LATER.—The German endeavor to capture Warsaw, pushed forward with notable energy for a period covering more than two weeks, has not made any material progress since last Tuesday, according to reports coming from Petrograd, London and Berlin. On the contrary, the Russian authorities in their last official communication reiterated their claims that the German advance movements in the direction of the Polish capital have been checked, and they specify when and where. The Berlin announcements do not dispute Petrograd.

Going into details, the latest Russian report recites the favorable outcome to advance-guard engagements near Mitau, in Courland, Russia, and says the Germans are continuing their efforts to cross the Narew river at a point near Novgorod, North of Warsaw. The line on the left bank of the Narew, from Ostrolenka to the River Pruth, has seen spirited fighting, but remains unchanged, and to the right of the Narew German attacks have been repulsed.

Between the Vieprz and the Bug there has been stubborn fighting, in which the Russians claim success and the capture of 1,500 German soldiers.

At Grubechow, a point close to the Galician frontier, North of Lemberg, the Germans made determined attempts to advance, but were driven back, according to the Russian War Office, and a little further to the South, a Sokal, the Russians declare they have begun a successful offensive movement. Desperate fighting is still going on at this point.

The French official statement of to-day reports minor activity but no fighting of any importance, while the latest Italian announcement says the progress of the Italian forces on the Carso plateau have been satisfactory and that they have been successful in minor encounters at other points.

Withdrawal Card.

To the Republicans of the 37th Legislative District:

I have for the following reasons decided to withdraw from the race for the nomination at the hands of the Republican party in this District for Representative.

The success of our party in November is to be considered first regardless of the interests of any candidate, and its apparent that quite a number of those who claim to be Republicans are supporting the candidacy of my opponents, with the view of organizing a bolt against me should I be nominated, I have decided to permit them to make the nomination. As my friends are loyal and will support either of my opponents who are nominated, this will leave the matter of nominating a Representative to those who would not support me if nominated and in that way damage the State ticket, the success of which should be above the interests of any individuals. This, together with the reason that I have been prevented by serious illness in my family from making a thorough canvass causes me to withdraw from the race. Thanking my friends for their loyal support, and urging every one of them to stand by the ticket in November, I am gratefully yours,

L. C. Nell.

The office of Auditor is in importance next to Governor. The duties are large and varied and the responsibilities, therefore great. Everybody concedes that "Bob" Greene is both capable and honest. The people have selected him before on account of his real merit.

He belongs to no faction and is on no slate. A more suitable man for the office can not be found. He fits the job exactly. He would like for the democrats to nominate him for Auditor at the August primary.
